ArtMorpheus/New Art Love | www.artmorpheus.org

- Erin Dimson-Doyle (Philosophy, Art History, 2016)
- Media Publications Intern
- Full-time, 35-40 hours per week
- Unpaid but receiving Career Center Internship Grant

What do you do as an intern at this organization?
I'm responsible for a majority of our writing and publication through various social media platforms. This includes Facebook and Twitter updates, as well as long form blog posts on our tumblr. I also help with writing for the organization in other contexts and general day-to-day operations.

How did you find your internship?
Google search

What do you enjoy most about your internship?
I'm given a lot of freedom to work on projects on my own (especially with the longer writing pieces), but if I need any assistance there are always people available. It allows me to really develop skills in a way that more rigid internships do not.

What do you find challenging?
I have lots of tasks. Being a very small non-profit, there's always more to do, and so part of my time is spent doing whatever needs to be done, picking up tasks no one else has time for. Along with my weekly tasks, I'm very busy.

What advice would you offer to someone who wants to make the most of an internship like yours?
Go in with an open mind. When it comes to interning at places so small, it's hard to know the details of what you'll end up doing. But at the same time, don't be afraid to ask for a project that you want. If you don't enjoy something, e.g., development work as much as PR, let your supervisor know.

About the Organization
ArtMorpheus/New Art Love
Boston, MA

ArtMorpheus is an impact-driven not-for-profit corporation that supports artists and creative enterprises to develop, flourish and innovate. We empower the creative sector with a wide range of sustaining resources, strategies for growth, and tools for public engagement. New Art Love is a social enterprise of ArtMorpheus. We create interactive mobile art guides that unify the art market and foster meaningful connections between artists and art lovers. Our free ArtApps enhance Open Studios events and make galleries, museums and alternative spaces more accessible and enjoyable. They empower users to personalize their art experiences and connect with the artists or organizations they relate to most. By increasing social engagement with high quality art, New Art Love promotes strong, authentic communities in the arts.